

Vote for Emma Genders and Moya Stirrup

Having both produced and written for school magazines we feel that we have the necessary skills to be excellent editors.

We are interested in all aspects of college life, and would be extremely keen to incorporate as many of these elements as possible in our publication.

We are both very creative and would be determined to make each issue fresh and exciting.

We are first year English Students who would love to contribute to Downing College life and share our passion for writing by editing the Griffin magazine.

We both see this as a prime opportunity to improve communication within the student body and exhibit all that Downing has to offer!

We would be committed to producing imaginative, exciting and varied publications to commemorate our continually changing college life.

as your JCR Griffin Editors

We want to make the Griffin a more accessible, widespread and fun publication with a better layout, regular articles, gossip columns, detailed sporting and event updates and interviews with the famous faces of Downing.

We would also like to use it as an opportunity to publicise and review productions in the new Howard Theatre.
