

Chloë Fletcher

for Women's Welfare and Equal Opportunities Officer

About Me

I'm a second year historian, a swimmer, a cox and a devotee of tea and apples. Having helped set up a Peer Mentoring Scheme (PMS for short... it was a girls' school) at home, I would like to do more at Downing to make it easy for undergrads to communicate with their representatives in the JCR. As women's officer, I would focus on women's issues, and make sure that the female student body is adequately represented. However, I'd love to chat to any student about their concerns.

What I will bring to the role:

- Several years of experience on a student committee, voicing the suggestions and concerns of a student body and working towards their implementation.
- A sympathetic and friendly ear that is always available
- Experience in discussing personal issues in a confidential and secure environment

As Women's Officer I will:

- Restart the JCR website's welfare blog with updates and information on the latest Downing and Cambridge women's issues or events
- Establish a closer connection with the Women's Officer at CUSU
- Unite with the Men's Welfare officer and LGBT Officer to start a weekly drop-in session for anyone with any worries, queries or a desperate need to consume tea and biscuits.
